DETAILED ACTION

Claims 68-85 are pending and subject to restriction requirement.

Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 68-82, drawn to a method for treating a disease of an animal by administering to the animal product(s) derived from Burkholderia casidae characterized by specific 16S rRNA and fatty acid profiles, classified in class 424, subclass 9.1, for example.
- II. Claim(s) 83, drawn to a method for treating a disease of an animal by administering to the animal a cell-free filtrate derived from Burkholderia casidae, classified in class 424, subclass 115, for example.
- III. Claim(s) 84, drawn to a method for treating a disease of an animal by administering to the animal cells of Burkholderia casidae, classified in class 424, subclass 93.4, for example.
- IV. Claim(s), drawn to a method for treating a disease of an animal by administering to the animal cells an alcohol extract derived from Burkholderia casidae, classified in class 424, subclass 780, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and Inventions II, III and IV are distinct because they are drawn to administration of different agents made from different bacteria as claimed wherein specific profiles required for identification of the Group I agents and/or product(s) are not required for identification of the agents and/or products of the Groups II, III and IV as claimed. Thus, the inventions are unrelated since it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06).

Inventions II, III and IV are distinct from each other because they are drawn to administration of different products or different agents such as a cell-free filtrate, whole cells and a cell extract. Thus, the inventions are unrelated since it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06).

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1651

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Election of species

This application contains claims that are directed to the following patentably distinct species: 1) living whole cells, 2) inactivated whole cells, 3) a cell-free filtrate, and 4) a cell extract. The species are independent or distinct because they are distinct products that have different designs as claimed, and, thus, therapeutic effects.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 68-75, 81 and 82 generic.

Art Unit: 1651

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species.

The election of species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 1651

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
